DRIVEN OFF BY FARMERS.

Party of Surveyors Looking After oil Rights Banished from Louisiana.

New Orleans, May 27.—A mob of armed farmers in Edgerly in Calcasieu parish today drove out a mining lawyer and an engineering party, some twenty in number, who were surveying the lands and who, it was reported were preparing to obtain the mineral rights on all homesteads in the parish. The movement against the surveyors, which has been gaining force for some days, is the result of the discovery of oil in Calcasieu parish and the consequent demand for land in that region.

More of the farmers in Calcasieu are homesteaders than have been entered by their present holders.

Many of the holders, however, have not yet completed their patents. This gives an outsider a right to buy the mineral rights of these lands by paying cash. A demand was made on the United States Land Office in New Orleans for a list of all the homesteads where the patents have not been completed. This list being refused a party, set out from Texas composed of several engineers and backed by some twenty Californians, to make an examination and survey of the homesteads in the parish.

It was understood by the Calcasieu farmers that this party was employed by the Standard Oil Company and it was rumored that this company intended to buy up the mineral rights on all homesteads. This rumor made a great deal of excitement. When the surveying party reached Buxton's Creek, near Edgerly, some of the leaders of the farmers rode up and ordered the surveyors at once to abandon their work. There was a disposition to resist at first, but when it was found that there were 150 armed men in the party the engineers abandoned their survey and surrendered all notes, papers and certificates they had.

The engineering party declare that they were not attempting to deprive any settler of his homestead, but only to locate some United States land they had bought in that section.

STOLE A WATCH.

American Soldier Steals Watch Valued at $5,000.

Birmingham, Ala., May 27.—A magnificent gold watch studded with diamonds and valued at $5,000 which was stolen from an English army officer at Tien Tsin, China, was recovered at Woodlawn, Ala., today by United States postoffice inspectors. It is alleged that a United States soldier from Birmingham, stationed at Tien Tsin, who was a watchmaker, was given the watch together with time piece of an English lady, to repair. The soldier deserted his post and the watches disappeared with him. The superintendent of mails at Tien Tsin found that the soldier had sent a registered package to Woodlawn, Ala., before his departure, and this gave the inspector a clue. Today the watch was recovered and sent to Washington to be returned to the English officer. The United States officials refuse to give the name of the soldier or the recipient of the watch.

Mrs. W. H. Lawson, of South Boston, Va., is visiting Mrs. E. Poole. Mrs. Lawson is an alumnae of Greensboro Female College and is attending commencement.

Farmer Commencement.

Correspondence of The Telegram.

Farmer, N. C., May 25.

The Commencement exercises of Farmer Institute were this year of unusual interest. The crowds were very large, and the exercises unusually good. The sermon was preached by Dr. P. L. Groom, of Greensboro, from the text St. John, first chapter and twelfth verse, "As many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God." The treatment of the subject was practical, scholarly and lofty, and stamped the preacher as a bold speaker, and an original thinker. The address was delivered by Prof. P. P. Claxton of the State Normal College, and the many that heard it say that was one of the finest speeches ever made here. For nearly an hour and a half the speaker held his audience in closest attention. His subject was education, and was handled in a pleasant and convincing manner. The musical contests for medals, graduating exercises and drama, were all of a high order, and elicited much favorable comment by those that heard them. Prof. Bost, the principal, resigned to go to other fields of work. The school has enjoyed a bright history under his efficient management.

In the Mayor's Court.

Several cases were continued in the mayor's court yesterday afternoon until this afternoon. One case was disposed of, Jack Spruwell, colored, assisted the city by contributing $7 for being drunk and disorderly at the station.

Mr. W. T. Bundick, the eloquent temperance lecturer, will give an address at the First Presbyterian church, Friday evening at 8 o'clock. It will be a great privilege to hear Mr. Bundick.

HIGH POINT DOINGS.

A Lamp Explosion Shakes Up Things—Personal Mention.

High Point, May 29.—Yesterday afternoon about four o'clock the stillness of the hour was broken by a tremendous report which shook the surrounding territory and brought people from all direction to see what was up. The explosion or whatever it was, took place in the rear lot of Sapp's Racket Store, on Main street. Strange to say no one has been found who knows anything about it, more than they heard the noise. What occasioned the report is a deep mystery. Some say a devilish boy set fire to an enormous cannon cracker. Others suggest the possibility of some heavenly body, while falling through space exploded in this locality just before striking the ground, leaving no fragments for verification, while others speak of spooks and the like. The police are now looking into the matter and some startling discoveries are expected.

MR. ODELL'S HOUSE FIRED.

It Was Struck by Lightning and the Furniture Injured by Removal.

Concord, May 28.—A heavy rain and hail storm passed over Concord this afternoon, hail falling at three different times. Lightning struck the residence of Mr. W. R. Odell, setting fire to it. The fire department was called out and the crowd of excited persons which surrounded the house did much damage by throwing out furniture, carpets etc. The fire was soon extinguished but considerable loss resulted from the well-meaning, but misdirected efforts of the people. Mr. and Mrs. Odell are in Greensboro and only the housekeeper was at home.

FOUND LOST VEIN OF GOLD.

Georgia Miner Working Night and Day to Make His Fortune

Dahlonega, Ga., May 28.—Like a Stevenson romance reads the experience of James Witt, a native miner of this place, who is working night and day to gain a fortune from a rich gold chute which he discovered, before his lease on the El Dorado expires. The mine which Witt is working is the old Findley chute, fourteen years ago accounted the richest mine in Georgia gold regions. It suddenly disappeared from view, and up to a few weeks ago persistent efforts had failed to locate it.

Witt leased the property for a nominal sum on speculation, and had about abandoned hope of making salt out of his investment, when, as suddenly as it had vanished, the chute reappeared and Witt began taking out large quantities of the precious metal. The owners in some way learned of his good luck, and absolutely refused to extend his lease. He is working desperately in order to make the most out of his opportunity, and is abstracting gold at the rate of about $1,000 per day. His lease expires shortly, but he will then have gained sufficient to enable him to live in luxury the remainder of his days.

Shoots His Son.

New and Observer.

Rutherfordton, N. C., May 28.—Mack McDowell, a farmer, forty-five years old, in a row yesterday with several members of his family, shot and instantly killed his 16-year-old son Jake with a 38-calibre pistol. The deed was at his home near Henrietta, in this county.

Jake had driven his 14-year-old brother from the field and thrashed him until he was almost unconscious. Later they met at the house and the second attack was made upon the young boy by Jake, when a third brother pulled him off. When this was done Jake demanded his pistol from the his father to kill the third brother, taking up an axe and following his father, swearing he would split open his head if he did not give up the pistol. McDowell, knowing the boy would fulfill his threat took his pistol from his pocket and fired one shot, the ball taking effect in the right lung. While the father was gone for the doctor he was arrested and brought to jail. He says that his life is a sweet to him as his son's was to him, and that he saved his own life by committing the deed.

DIED IN WASHINGTON.

Lieut. Col. Michler Passes Away After Protracted Illness.

By Wire to The Telegram.
Washington, May 29.—Lieutenant Colonel Francis Michler, military secretary to Lieutenant General Miles, died today after a protracted illness. He was a graduate of West Point, and was appointed from Pennsylvania in 1866. Charlotte Observer.

Jewelry Store Dynamited.

By Wire to The Telegram.

New York, May 29.—Gleason & Company's jewelry store on 125th street was wrecked by dynamite this morning. The whole front was blown in by the explosion of a nitro glycerine cartridge. The police say the explosion is a clear case of malice. Gleason & Company had some trouble with their neighbors recently, which would indicate in the opinion of the police that the place was blown up for revenge.

BAD CENTS COMING IN.

Sub-Treasury Now Receiving From 500 to 600 of Them Each Day.

New York Sun.
Counterfeit cents are coming into the United States Sub-treasury nowadays with a rush. Apparently the counterfeiters are working over time, and all the efforts of the United States Secret Service men have not availed in locating the plants from which the humble little counterfeits are turned out. More bad cents are now being received at the sub-treasury for redemption than ever before in the history of the institution. Between 500 and 600 of the bogus coins are arriving daily. In April, of 373,870 cents turned in, 13,108 were counterfeit.

The range of dates on the bad coins covers practically all the years during which the small bronze cents have been issued, and the metal of which they are made is becoming more and more like that of the genuine cent. Nevertheless it is not the same and it is the differences in color that most easily gives away the bad cents to the sub-treasury money counters. The workmanship upon the bad coins, too, is getting better and better. The dies from which the coins have been struck are excellent and it is evident that the counterfeiting are experimenting constantly upon alloys for the purpose of better simulating the genuine cents.

Even with the price of copper at the high figure of 17 cents a pound there is lots of profit to the counterfeiters, providing, of course, plenty of the bad coins are passed.

RENOVATING WHITE HOUSE.

Summer Cleaning Completed, Ready for Household.

Washington, Post.

The annual spring renovation at the White House has progressed rapidly during the absence of the president's party, and it now remains only for a few finishing touches to be applied to have the mansion ready for the return of the household. Every carpet has tiling, window lace and draperies removing, window laces and raperies removed, and the upholstered furniture clothed with its summer linen.

Fresh coats of white paint have been applied to both the rear and front porticos, and the private corridor downstairs is also being retouched with the painter's brush. This work is yet in progress, but will be completed before the President arrives. It is likely the entire building will be repainted outside, but as this work will be done from swinging scaffolds and no hammering will be necessary, it can be done at any time without annoyance to the occupants of the White House.

The only repairs now in progress that will not be completed within the next few days are about the conservatory. The work there is rather on an extensive scale and has made necessary the removal of most of the potted plants. These have been arranged about the grounds in artistic groups, and form an attractive addition to the shrubbery. The constant use of water in the green houses quickly rots the woodwork, and much of this now being replaced.

Will L. Charles, student at Wake Forest College, is at home for the holidays.

JEALOUS MAN SHOOT.First a Woman He Loves, Then Sends a Ball Through His Head and Both Will Die.

Leavenworth, Kan., May 26.—Love and jealousy prompted Jacob Utter, a well-to-do livery stable owner, to shoot Mrs. Henry Kegelmeyer tonight and then shoot himself. Utter is dying, and it is believed the woman cannot recover.

Utter went to the home of Mrs. Kegelmeyer on Cherokee street shortly after she had returned from a drive with another man. He asked for her and was told she had stepped out. At the door he met her and the woman, fearing him, turned to escape. Utter drew a revolver and shot her in the back, midway between the shoulders. She ran out the front of the house and fell mortally wounded. Utter then turned the weapon against himself and sent a ball through his brain just above the right eye.

Utter is about 35 years old and unmarried. He had been paying the woman some attention, but his suit has not been received with favor. Mrs. Kegelmeyer is a handsome woman about 31 years old, whose husband was also proprietor of a livery stable when he died several years ago. He left her a large sum of money.

CAME THROUGH THE ROOF.Cow Knocked from a Bridge Above and Landed on the Rileys' Breakfast Table.

Binghamton, N. Y., May 27.—While the family of William Riley was at breakfast today a cow came crashing through the roof of his house and landed on the table. The Riley family live in the valley below the Starrucca Viaduct, the Erie Railway structure that rises 300 feet from the ground.

The cow wandered into the bridge just as a train approached. The engineer realized that if his train left the track it would be dashed to pieces, and determined to put on force enough to remove the obstacle. Accordingly he threw the throttle open and struck the cow at all speed. There was a slight jar to the train, but the animal was hurled into the air and clearing the bridge, crashed through the roof of the house below. Then there was a wrecked roof, a spoiled breakfast and a dead cow, but no damage was done the family.

Objecting to Golf Playing.

Boston Herald.

We think it will strike almost every one as idle on the part of Bishop Mallalieu, of the Methodist church, to object to golf playing. The Bishop says it is "folish and silly" for grown men to engage in the game. By so doing he subjects himself to a retort in kind. It is certain not wise for a man in his position to pass severe judgment upon a matter of which he has so little comprehension, except in a narrow aspect. A public religious teacher should have regard to his influence in the world, and not hazard it gratuitously. Golf is a sport that appeals to a wide class of people, and among them are many of intellectual tastes, to whom it is of great benefit as a relaxation from mental labor. The Bishop does not seem to have considered the subject at all in this light. Its being engaged in to excess may be open to criticism, and had objections to it been confined here they might have had an aspect of reason; but when it is stigmatized as simply a childish game, one is impelled to reflection that there may be childishness in other and unconscious quarters.

Skin Diseases

ECZEMA, TETTER, PSORIASIS, SALT RHEUM, ACNE and a great many other diseases of like character are classed as skin diseases, when they could just as properly be called blood diseases, for they undoubtedly originate in the blood, like Cancer, Catarrh, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Contagious Blood Poison, etc.; the only real difference being in the intensity and nature of the poison. The more serious diseases, Cancer, Catarrh, etc., are caused by some specific poison or virus, which is either inherited or in other ways gets into the blood and attacks certain vital organs or appears in the form of terrible sores and ulcers, while the milder and less dangerous skin diseases are caused by blood humors or an over acid condition of that fluid. These acid poisons, as they ooze out through the pores of the skin, cause great irritation, with intense itching and burning. The eruption may be of a pustular kind, with excessive discharge of thick, gummy fluid, or the skin may be hot, dry and feverish, swollen and fissured. Skin diseases, whether they appear as sores, blotches or pimples, become more deeply rooted and intractable the longer neglected, the skin in time having a thick, hard, rough and unsightly appearance. You can hide the blemishes for a time with cosmetics; and washes, lotions, soaps and powders may relieve temporarily the itching and burning, but eventually the pores of the skin become so clogged up by this treatment that the poisonous matter thrown off by the blood cannot pass out of the system, and settles on the lungs, heart or some other vital organ and endangers life.

To purify and build up the polluted blood is the right treatment for skin diseases, and for this purpose no other medicine is so deservedly popular as S. S. S. It is a perfect antidote for all blood humors, and when taken into the circulation, gently but thoroughly eliminates all impurities and puts the blood in a healthy, normal state. The skin can remain in an irritated, diseased condition when nourished with rich, new blood. S. S. S. is the only guaranteed purely vegetable remedy, and the safest and best skin beautifier. Write our physicians if you have any blood or skin disease, and they will cheerfully advise you without charge.

BERLIN'S CHILD EXCHANGE.

In That City Folks Take Country Children and Send Their Own Out of Town.

The oddest plan yet proposed for furthering the right development of children has been adopted in Berlin, says the New York Sun. It provides for an interchange of city and country children.

The poorer people of Berlin who cannot afford family outings send their children to the peasant families in the country and in return receive for a time an equal number of peasant children, who thus get a chance to see the wonders of the city and to brighten up by contact with a life different from their own.

The charitable German women who have devised this temporary exchange of children are highly pleased with the way the scheme works so far. Reciprocal selfish interest in their own children, they say, prompts considerate treatment of the little visitors by the families in each home.

The most enthusiastic supporters of the plan would like to extend it. If the experience gained by the city children in the country and country children in the city is so valuable, they want to know why an international exchange of children a little older, between the different countries wouldn't be of benefit all around.

There isn't any great likelihood of the German's plan being developed thus far, because English, French and American ideas don't fall in with this scheme of putting the home idea out of existence. But the German women can't imagine why it should not be a great success.

WINE OF CARDUI
Woman Knows Woman.
ZURICH, KAN., Jan. 31.
I used Wine of Cardui for nervousness and weakness in the womb. After taking one bottle I was well again. I am a midwife and always recommend Wine of Cardui to my lady friends during pregnancy and after birth as a tonic. Every lady who takes it finds that it does even more than is claimed for it.
MRS. V. M. BOISVERT.
Wine of Cardui
Nobody knows woman like woman. Men go to medical colleges, study books and listen to lectures. They learn indirectly of the diseases of women, but they are men and can never fully understand the ailments, the sufferings, the agonies of mothers, wives and sisters. A woman knows. Mrs. Boisvert knows. She has passed through the trials and tribulations of her sex. She has been near by when her sisters suffered. She has seen them relieved and cured with Wine of Cardui. Is it any wonder she recommends it? Is it any wonder that thousands of other women recommend it? They know. They have actual experience to prompt them. They spread the tidings from mouth to mouth, telling how Wine of Cardui helps young girls, helps the weak of all ages, helps and cures all womanly ills.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 29.

AGAINST THE VIRGINIA MACHINE.

The gubernatorial contest in Virginia is waxing warmer as time goes on, and the result so far indicate the people have not forgotten the methods which defeated that peerless Virginian, Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, for the Senate some years ago. The fact that Danville and Lynchburg have gone for Montague, is evidence the city people are joining forces with the farmers against machine politics, and Senator Martin's candidate for Governor will have a hard road to travel, without much prospect of getting there.

SENATOR MORGAN ON THE ISSUE.

Senator Morgan has written a public letter giving his views of what he thinks should be Democratic policy. Senator Morgan is the foremost statesman of the South, and one of the foremost of the whole country, and what he says should have due weight. He declares for a rigid adherence to the ancient creed of the Democratic party, with special reference to the use of the taxing power for public purposes only. He refers to the fact that there is an income tax provision in the Dingley tariff law which is not enforced and remains a dead letter, and that the income tax follows the precedent established by the founders of the government and was pronounced constitutional by Chief Justice Marshall. He asserts that "there is no other instance in history where a parliamentary government has enacted a tax law, and the chief magistrate has approved it, where its execution has been suspended and its existence ignored because it would relieve the toiling people by shifting some of the burdens of taxation upon the shoulders of people better able to bear them." The national debt, he says should be paid and this retirement of government bonds would compel the national banks to return to the old "Democratic specie basis" or go out of business, and it would also solve all questions of single and double standards. He is for the annexation of Cuba "when these people want to come to us, as Texas did," but denies that we have any right to conduct a protectorate or suzerainty in any foreign country.

What he says of the Philippines is both timely, wise and interesting:

The Republican party did not capture or annex the Philippine Islands either through their votes in Congress or their sacrifices in war or through the wishes of the policy of their President. The result was unexpected, and unsought by all parties. It came as a necessity of war and as a great duty devolved upon us by civilization, humanity and Christianity.

As a Democrat I found that the precedents of party action and the grand results of party creed were in full harmony with our national duty to God and to suffering people, and I accepted a situation from which there was no escape, except through a disreputable retreat. I welcomed the opportunity to again demonstrate that the enlargement of our borders only added the blessings of liberty, security, peace and prosperity to down-trodden races of men and the earnest desire to oppose the just and powerful strength of republican institutions to the worst form of Bourbon despotism.

Again, as a Democrat, I welcome the opportunity to show these millions, redeemed from Spanish rule, that they have gained the real benefits of a constitution that will secure supreme equal rights and privileges to all, with no exclusive privileges to any class through the abuse of the powers of taxation, or otherwise.

Some Democrats wish that the Philippine Islands had never been acquired by the United States, as some objected to the purchase of Louisiana, Florida and Alaska, the annexation of Hawaii and Texas and the capture of Porto Rico; and some object to the annexation of Cuba. Their reasons are cogent, but they have not and will not prevail. In one thing we all agree, namely, that our acquisitions of all these countries has been for the uplifting and civilization and betterment of the conditions of their inhabitants. In another thing all Democrats are agreed, which is that these people and the lands they occupy shall enjoy the full blessings of constitutional liberty, such as we have, and that they shall not be kept as appendages and reservations to enrich those who wish to govern them as colonies, attached to the presidential office, as the crown colonies belong to the crown of Great Britain, or other European monarchies. The Democracy will save those islands and their people from becoming mere kitchen gardens to feed the hungry classes that are always alert to subject men and States to their personal service and enrichment through the abuse of the power of taxation.

Without turning aside to wrangle with each other over differences that are settled by events which we cannot recall or reverse, it seems to me that our duties are plain, and that pathway is clear and the opportunity is wide open to us and extremely inviting to all Democrats to assemble on the old foundation creed and again bless the country with an old-fashioned Democratic triumph.

Now that the campaign is near, common consent is likely to admit that imperialism was a bugaboo, and resulted from a desire to make issues, for which time and events were not ripe. There is but one thing for the Democratic party to do, and that is to come to the great Alabamian's position on this question. It must do so if it ever desires to run for aught but the mere exercise of the chair.

Coming Retaliatory Tariff War.

New York Journal.
No thoughtful man can fail to observe the startling signs of an approaching war of retaliatory tariff by combined Europe against the United States. Notwithstanding the obvious peril of the situation, the high protectionists of the United States at prophets of evil and jauntily declare that the governments of Europe cannot afford to levy destructive duties upon our manufactured goods, because they would thus deprive their subjects or citizens of the right to buy in the best and cheapest market. Nearly all of the commercial treaties of the United States with the leading nations of the world will expire in the same year, 1903. It is notorious that our rivals are trying to revise these treaties on hostile lines. Is there no statesman powerful enough and wise enough to arouse the nation to a realization of the coming international struggle?

A DISCOVERY.

Mr. James R. Coleman, a native of Pittsylvania county, Virginia, was afflicted with indigestion for twelve years; he could eat no solid food without great agony, and could not sleep at night. He was treated by eminent physicians who pronounced his case hopeless. As a last result he began the use of a preparation of his own as an experiment and found relief at once; in six week's time he was able to resume his farm work, a cured man. This was six years ago and he has had no return of the symptoms up to this time. Mr. Coleman called the remedy 'Coleman's Guarantee,' and the results from its use among his friends were so marvelous that The Coleman Remedy Company was formed last year at Danville, Va., for the general sale of the preparation. 'Coleman's Guarantee' is sold by druggists at 50c (large) bottles. Ask for booklet telling of many wonderful cures.

NAME FOR KODOL.

It had given such satisfactory results that the name was unanimously selected by the people for the new office and adopted by the department at Washington, D. C.

THE GRADUATES READ ESSAYS.

DR. KILGO MAKES THEM A TALK BEFORE THEY GET DIPLOMAS.

The Program is Interspersed With Good Music—The Concert To-night Will Conclude the Commencement.

Today was Commencement Day proper at Greensboro Female College. Three theses were read by three of the graduates, their essays being adjudged by a committee to be the best. The first one was read by Miss Henrietta Gibbons Westbrook. Her subject was, "Some Phases of Victorian Literature," and the literature of that age was treated in a masterly manner, showing not only a close acquaintance with the literature of that period, but a deep and clear insight into the purposes and ideals which swayed the lives of those who, with their able pens, left a rich heritage to future generations.

The second essay, "A Romantic Chapter in North Carolina," by Miss Mabel Vann, of Franklinton, was next read. In a charming manner Miss Vann told of the early history of our Commonwealth during its infancy. In graphic manner she described Governor White's departure from Roanoke for the mother country, the war and strife he found there, and after three years' absence from the New World, the disappointment that awaited him, when at the close of a beautiful summer day he again set foot upon the white shore from whence, three years before, he had bidden friends farewell, and found no person to greet him and no living voice to break the stillness of the mighty forest.

A piano duet by Misses Ethel Blacklock and Leonore Balsley, second piano, "Capriccio Brilliant," was much enjoyed.

The third essay was read by Miss Linda Wharton, of this city. Her subject was, "The Literary Awakening in New England." She spoke of the early literature of this section as being necessarily devoted to a description of the country itself, and from that period she ably portrayed the growth and development of the strong writers of the succeeding periods down to the present time.

The next feature on the program was a solo, "Swiss Echo Song," by Miss Minnie Gorrell. The rendition of this song was much enjoyed by the entire audience. Miss Gorrell's singing is always well received in Greensboro.

This was followed by the presentation by Rev. Plato Durham, of diplomas to four young ladies, three of them, Misses Leonora Irene Balsley, Elma Courtney, and Willie Adelaide Click, graduates in music and Miss Mabel Heitman, graduate in art.

After the presentation of diplomas, Dr. J. C. Kilgo, of Trinity College, addressed the members of the graduating class before they were presented with the Bibles. The presentation was made by Dr. Peacock in a few appropriate words, and as he gave the Bible into the hand of each young lady, it was accompanied by a verse of scripture. He then read the honors of the class as follows, Miss Mabel Vann, first; Miss Iva May Bagby, Caroline Simmons Lambeth, Henrietta Gibbons Westbrook, and Linda Wharton, second; and Misses Bessie Viliete Dunlap, and Lannie Elizabeth Oliver, third.

A short talk was then made those young ladies who had taken only the business course at the college, by Rev. J. C. Troy, of Jonesboro, and Dr. Peacock then presented them with certificates. The young ladies who took this course were Misses Jesse Scott, Allie Vickory, Mabel Glenn, and Lula Marsh. Dr. Peacock made this the occasion to give them a few words of advice in his usual witty style, which were well received, not only by the girls themselves but by the entire audience.

Miss Elma Courtney and Prof. Parker then delighted the audience by singing a duet, "A Night in Venice." This was followed by the audience joining in singing the Doxology, and they were dismissed with the benediction by Rev. R. S. Webb.

Tonight will witness the close of commencement occasion in the annual concert. The program for this concert was printed in The Telegram yesterday. As before stated, only those who hold tickets will be admitted. This action is taken because of the limited seating capacity of the college chapel.

For Beating His Wife.

Deputies Jones and Weatherly arrested a man by the name of John Fruit yesterday afternoon charged with beating his wife on Monday night. He was taken before Justice Pritchett, who admitted him to bail in the sum of one hundred dollars for his appearance Saturday for trial. He gave the bond and was released. He lives in South Greensboro.

A. and M. Debate.

The closing exercises of the Literary Societies at the A. & M. College last night were both instructive and entertaining. The declamations and essays by the students were very creditably rendered and showed that each one had given time and care in the preparation for his part. The debate was very interesting, the subject being "Resolved, That a Compulsory System of Education Should be Enforced in North Carolina." J. B. McLendon, of Ansonville, N. C., represented the affirmative and W. F. Robinson, of Laurinburg, N. C., the negative. Both speakers made creditable speeches, showing thought and research. Prof. C. G. O'Kelly, of Winston, N. C., delivered the annual address, which was filled with timely and wholesome advice. His subject was, "To be Rather Than Seem," or as he termed it in fewer words, "Don't Sham." The speaker emphasized the fact that those who attempt to sham their way in life always fail. Especially did he urge the students to disdain false appearances and be the truth. He impressed the fact that the redemption of the negro race depends largely upon the young people and that it cannot be brought about by false show. The industrial program, representing the work of each department of the school will be rendered tonight, and it promises to be very excellent. The public is invited to be present.

MUSICAL TASTE OF MONKEYS.

According to This Authority It Runs to the Bagpipes of Which They Are Very Fond.

Now that Prof. Garner is instructing us in the language of monkeys, it becomes a matter of family interest, as it were, to note any peculiarities of development in the animals from which the evolutionists maintain that the human race descended or, more properly speaking, ascended. It may be classed with the study of genealogy. The author of "Studies in Corsica" touches on monkey music in speaking of the bagpipe.

The well-known boast of patriotic Scotchmen that the bagpipe is sacred to Scotland, and speaking a language which only Scotchmen feel, is as slight in foundation as it is dubious in import. In Syria, in Persia, in Afghanistan and India, in fact, throughout the south of both Europe and Asia, the bagpipe is known and is enthusiastically cultivated.

In India, if I may believe some soldier friends, the pipes attached to the Highland regiments are far more enjoyed by the native population than the best brass bands of other battalions.

Nay, so much akin to our original nature is the dulcet music of the simple bagpipe that it is the one sort of music which stirs the monkeys. For, according to the testimony of the same officers, the Indian monkeys, although unmoved by bands, are so powerfully fascinated by the Scottish pibroch that when a detachment of Highlanders is marching to the pipes, and when the roadway traversed is lined with trees, the monkeys will follow the troops with signs of delight, scrambling after them from tree to tree. From facts such as these one cannot doubt that the bagpipe is one of our oldest instruments.

MADE THE HOPPERS FRISKY.

Exciting Race Between Kangaroos That Had Been Doped with Whisky.

"The most exciting race I ever witnessed was between three kangaroos," said J. L. Stevenson, of Sydney, Australia, reports the Denver Post.

"A friend of mine, Henry Roberts, has a huge plantation out in the bush in Queensland. One day he said to me: 'Steve, did you ever see a real good kangaroo race?' I had seen the great hoppers running round the house, but never a race. He disappeared and I dozed off to sleep in my hammock. An hour later I was awakened by the shouts of my host. 'Look! Look!' he cried, in great excitement. 'Here they come!' Glancing out over the broad green pasture north of the house, I beheld the kangaroos. The three were flying over the short grass, neck and neck.

"As they drew nearer I saw that ribbons were streaming from their necks. Red, white and blue were the colors. They approached at astonishing speed, making straight toward Roberts, who held aloft a small basket filled with some vegetable. At last they reached us, a big brown kangaroo with the red ribbon slightly in the lead.

"Roberts emptied the basket before them, and some sugar beets fell to the ground. Eagerly the kangaroos devoured them and an odor of liquor arose. Roberts had fed them beets soaked in whisky, had led them to the edge of the pasture behind the gate and then retraced his steps to the house, calling his pets. At a signal one of his men had lowered the bars, and the intoxicated kangaroos, greedy for more of the strange beets, rushed after their master."

STRANGE MOUNTAIN TRIBE.

Discovery of an Unknown Race of Aborigines in the Wilds of Borneo.

A strange tribe has just been discovered in Borneo by Dr. A. W. Nieuwenhuis, the distinguished Dutch explorer. As he was traveling through the district of Sarawak he heard from his guides that at a little distance there was a mountain tribe which no European or America had ever visited, and straightway he went thither, and in a day or two found himself at the headquarters of these unknown aborigines. At once he saw that they differed from all other natives of Borneo, and he spent some weeks in acquainting himself with their curious customs and also in studying their country, which is entirely unknown to foreign travelers. In this way he accumulated a mass of new material, which he intends to give to the world at an early date in the form of a book.

This is the second journey which Dr. Nieuwenhuis has taken to Central Borneo. He first went there in 1895 and explored the sources of the Kapuas and Mahakkam rivers, after which he returned to Europe, where he at once obtained an appointment as director of the Botanical garden at Buitenzorg. In 1899 he went again to Borneo, intending to thoroughly explore the interior of the country, and it is claimed that in this task he has succeeded better than any previous traveler.

Every woman in the country ought to know about

Mother's Friend

Those who do know about it wonder how they ever got along without it. It has robbed childbirth of its terrors for many a young wife. It has preserved her girlish figure and saved her much suffering. It is an external liniment and carries with it therefore, absolutely no danger of upsetting the system as drugs taken internally are apt to do. It is to be rubbed into the abdomen to soften and strengthen the muscles which are to bear the strain. This means much less pain. It also prevents morning sickness and all of the other discomforts of pregnancy.

A druggist of Macon, Ga., says: "I have sold a large quantity of Mother's Friend and have never known an instance where it has failed to produce the good results claimed for it."

A prominent lady of Lambert, Ark., writes: "With my first six children I was in labor from 24 to 30 hours. After using Mother's Friend, my seventh was born in 4 hours."

If people only knew what we know about Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, it would be used in nearly every household, as there are few people who do not suffer from a feeling of fullness after eating, belching, flatulence, sour stomach or waterbrash, caused by indigestion or dyspepsia. A preparation such as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which, with no aid from the stomach, will digest your food, certainly can't help but do you good.

POLICE STATISTICS.

There are 16,000 policemen in London, 9,000 in Paris and 5,000 in Berlin.

Buffalo, with 650 miles of streets and 25,000 arrests in a year, has 730 policemen.

Baltimore, with 375 miles of streets and 30,000 arrests in a year, has 880 policemen.

St. Louis, with 880 miles of streets and 25,000 arrests in a year, has 1,300 policemen.

Boston, with 43,000 arrests in a year and 500 miles of streets, has 1,100 policemen.

Philadelphia, with 1,500 miles of streets and 60,000 arrests in a year, has 2,780 policemen.

Chicago, with 70,000 arrests in a year and 4,000 miles of streets to be patrolled, has 3,300 policemen.

New York, with a total population of 3,500,000, expends in police salaries alone more than $10,000,000 annually.

In 1899 the expenses of the New York police department were $11,182,500. This year they are $11,162,000.

The annual cost of the Chicago police department is $3,300,000, Philadelphia $2,950,000, Boston $1,500,000 and St. Louis $1,400,000.

San Francisco has 430, Pittsburgh 355, Providence 250, Washington 600, Louisville, 325, Cincinnati 516 and Cleveland 400 policemen.

New Orleans, with 700 miles of streets, 18,000 arrests in a year and a large floating, turbulent colored population, has only 300 policemen.

The London police department costs $8,100,000, the Paris department $6,000,000 and the Berlin police department $1,500,000. Berlin policemen are retired Prussian soldiers.

There are 7,400 members of the New York police force for all the boroughs—7,368 to be exact. The number of arrests made by the New York police last year was 138,875, or an average of between 18 and 20 for each policeman.

THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

British revenue has doubled in the past century; British wealth has trebled.

The recent India famine affected 417,000 square miles, and 54,000,000 people.

On an average 600,000 Irish, 260,000 Scotch, and 400,000 foreigners reside in England and Wales.

Pawnshops in England have increased from 89 per million people in 1851 to 146 at present.

In the English house of lords are four princes, 23 dukes, 19 marquises, 139 earls, 32 viscounts, 26 bishops, 272 barons.

The total trade of British colonies is to-day 555,000,000 tons. The whole commerce of the British empire a century ago was only 79,000,000 tons.

The imports into the Argentine Republic from the United Kingdom and the United States have lately shown a decrease, while the import trade of that country with Germany and Italy has sensibly increased.

There are still many undeveloped mines along the coast of British Columbia which show good prospects. There is also said to be a very large quantity of fine marble, which could be easily quarried if a market for it were found. Excellent granite and other building stone abound.

It is believed in London that English cotton spinners are facing very hard times. A period of trade activity has been followed by a reaction, accelerated by the high prices of raw cotton and other materials, a poor demand from India and an almost complete stoppage of buying from China.

TOO TALL FOR SHIP'S BERTH.

United States Army Officer Astonishes the Captain of an Ocean Steamer.

The tallest passenger that ever sailed on the Red D Dner Philadelphia arrived in New York from San Juan, Porto Rico, the other day. There were 33 cabin passengers aboard, but none attracted as much attention as Capt. John S. Battle, U. S. A., until recently a lieutenant in the Eleventh infantry. The young man's unusual height, broad shoulders and giant frame make him a tower of strength.

"Never sailed with such another," said Capt. Chambers, of the Philadelphia. "He was the tallest man I ever clapped eyes on. He was too long for the space between decks."

"Capt. Battle had to stoop as he walked the promenade deck. The awnings were not high enough to prevent the captain's head from colliding with frames and canvas; fact, Capt. Battle is more than seven feet tall. Had to procure special permission from the war department when he received his appointment to the military academy. He was bigger than the regulation size."

"Didn't know what to do about a bunk for the captain. Thought at first he was a lighthouse. He came aboard at San Juan, and asked me if I had a berth long enough. Told him that I once had a man almost as long as he, and that two berths had been thrown into one, making a continuous bed about eight feet long."

"Capt. Battle went below with me and looked at the double berth. Said he'd prefer to sleep on deck. So he had to take an ordinary berth, which was about three feet too short. For five nights the captain had to sleep with his legs hanging over the foot of the berth and curled around a stanchion."

ODD CLAUSE IN A BEQUEST.

Rich Bostonian Excludes Negroes and Catholics from a Legacy.

In the will of David W. Hitchcock, a rich Bostonian, filed the other day, appears the following clause bearing upon a contingent bequest made to Wellesley female seminary to establish scholarships for worthy young women: "I exclude Roman Catholics and colored persons because I feel that the introduction into the said seminary of pupils who differ essentially in race and religion from the others may prevent the best interests thereof. Such girls to be selected as the beneficiaries of this fund by the officers of said seminary as would be unable to afford the expense of an education at said institution without such assistance, and I request said officers to limit the benefit of such assistance to such girls as appear to them to be bright and intelligent and likely to profit thereby."

If the trustees of the seminary refuse to accept the bequest the testator directs that the fund be given to the Museum of Fine Arts.

HAS UNITED MANY COUPLES.

Rev. W. L. Meese Performs His 1,500th Marriage Ceremony at Chicago.

Rev. William Lawrence Meese, of Auburn, Ind., came to Chicago the other day, and united his grandson in marriage, the event making 1,500 weddings at which Rev. Mr. Meese has officiated. The bridegroom was William Lawrence Eaton and the bride Miss Esther Menardi Gauger, daughter of John A. Gauger, 4241 Drexel boulevard.

Mr. Meese, who has attained considerable celebrity through the many marriage ceremonies he has performed, had until the other day united in marriage 1,499 couples. When his grandson's engagement was announced it was thought to be fitting that the grandfather should officiate and round out his record to an even 1,500. Mr. Meese is the organizer of the Meese Matrimonial association, which was formed in 1896. Its membership is limited to the persons he has married, and annual reunions are held.

SHIRTWAIST IS A UNIFORM.

Detroit Letter Carriers Will Wear Cool Attire of Dark Hue During Summer.

Detroit letter carriers will be comfortably clad in shirt waists this summer in place of the hot, uncomfortable coats. Postmaster Dickerson has been working for this change for some time, and in cooperation with the Letter Carriers' association has brought about the change. A dark gray pattern has been chosen as the most appropriate color for the waists.

They will be of negligee pattern, with apertures in the rear and front for suspenders, so that these will not show over the shirt. A black necktie will be worn with them and gold buttons. The bands on straw hats will be made to match the color of the shirt. An order has already been placed for the goods, and it is expected that they will be ready by May 1.

Could Not Speak

until he had cured himself of an impediment in his speech.

The finest flight of oratory may sound like the mumblings of an insane man, without a clear, distinct and forcible delivery.

So your printed message, however important, vital and interesting it may be, can suffer so from slipshod, careless, blotchy printing that it will fail to deliver its message.

Bad printing is to your advertising what defective, indistinct enunciation is to an orator. You owe it to yourself to say the best that you have, and to say it the best that you can.

Our printing is appropriate to every purpose because there is no sort of printing which should not be done as well as it can be done.
